The breathtaking contrasts in scale, which will start WIKING fans and lovers of agricultural machines raving enthusiastically: The Claas Lexion 760 with Conspeed corn picker makes an impressive double debut in 1:87 and 1:32. Both model giants once again illustrate how much fun the WIKING love for details can be – and in such different scales, to boot! The Fendt Katana 65, likewise with corn header, perfectly supplements the range of agricultural machines. Also up-to-the-minute: the VW T5 GP as a police vehicle and the Still Hybrid RX 70-30H forklift. In addition, the August program contains classics and youngtimers each of which defined an era: they include the fabulous Ford T5 convertible, the legendary Citroën HY panel truck and the venerable Büssing 8000 tow truck in the brand colors of the Braunschweig-based manufacturer. On top of this, two contemporary trucks new to the program are heading straight into the collector's hands: the round-hooded Magirus of "Müller's Mühle" packed full of sacks and the Opel Blitz fire service all-purpose vehicle. The historical WIKING world finally gets traffic regulations back: In the accessory set, the historical traffic signs of the 1960s make a comeback – now model fans can fit out their WIKING street map to perfection. Six classics are added to the model-building street scene of automotive decades of times past. WIKING presents the visionary Tatra 87 in elegant metallic splendor as well as the red Porsche 911 SC with the new Fuchs rims. In addition, WIKING pays homage to its former collaboration with the Swedish shipper ASG, in whose memory a VW T1 as air freight transporter has been added to the collection. Also coming in the series are the stately Kaelble tipper trailer modeled after its Heitkamp version and the Magirus box semi-trailer in the colors of the former Bielefeld-based firm “Bastert Kunststoff-Verpackungen.”

The Eicher Königstiger gets ready for working in the fields, while the THW-Unimog U 400 with grader blade and true-to-life yellow light, the All Terrain Vehicle and the Mazda MX5 enrich the street scene magnificently. The Magirus post office truck joins the program in 1:60 scale miniaturization.
